SUKKOTH HOLIDAY JOYOUSLY OBSERVED

This past Sukkoth festival has been a memorable one for all of us — for our worshipers, for those who joined us in having their meals in our Sukah, for the children of our schools . . . in short for the entire congregational family.

The services during the entire holiday were beautiful and impressive under the inspired leadership of Rabbi Lookstein, his rabbinic assistant Rabbi Siff, Cantor Vigoda and our Ritual Director, Israel D. Rosenberg.

We are happy to note that so many more of our congregants took to heart our suggestion that they provide themselves with a Lulav and Ethrog for the holidays. During the Lulav processions of the first two days of Sukkoth, the Synagogue was transformed into a grove of palms. Never before had so many worshipers participated in this colorful procession, each bearing his Lulav and Ethrog in the traditional Hoshanah service.

After the services our worshipers proceeded to the Sukkah for Kiddush. The Sukkah had been beautifully decorated by our Sisterhood in keeping with the Feast of the Harvest. It was especially inspiring to those who took advantage of the opportunity afforded them to have their holiday meals in the Sukkah in the company of their fellow members and friends.

The children of Ramaz School and our Afternoon Religious School visited the Sukkah, discussed the symbols they found there, and had a bite in the Sukkah so that they too could experience its true meaning

The Grooms of the Law —

The latter days of the Sukkoth festival lived up to their traditional purpose as days of religious joy. As has become traditional in our Synagogue the Grooms of the Law, Isidore Grossman, Chasan Torah, Mr. Saul J. Lance Chasan Bereshith and Dr. Theodore R. Fink, Chasan Maftir, were introduced to the Congregation by Rabbi Lookstein on Shemini Azeret before Musaf service. They were then individually escorted to their place of honor by Mr. Max J. Etra, President of the Congregation, and Mr. A. Phillip Goldsmith, Vice-President. It was moving to see the solemn reception and esteem shown to the Representatives of the Law.

Hakafoth Service —

The Hakafoth Service featured the children as guest of honor.

The seven processions with the Torah Scrolls were headed by Junior Marshals, children of our schools, carrying miniature scrolls. The traditional melodies, supplemented by special songs were admirably rendered by Cantor Vigoda with the entire congregation joining as a mighty chorus. A special note of gaiety was added by Haskel Lookstein and his chorus of ushers.

The high-light of the following morning service was the calling of the Grooms of the law. A special citation was read by Rabbi Lookstein for each of them and a guard of honor escorted them to the reading desk. A kiddush in honor of the Grooms was served at the end of the service.

Rabbi Siff will preach this Sabbath at 11:00 A.M.

RABBI LOOKSTEIN TO ADDRESS MEN'S CLUB OPENING SUPPER MEETING OCTOBER 17th

WAS IT YOU?

One of our members came into the office this week slightly hunched over by a coat that was too tight in the shoulders. He told us that during the "at Home" a week ago Wednesday evening at Rabbi and Mrs. Lookstein's, someone had mistakenly exchanged coats.

We would like to straighten out this member, as well as this situation, so we ask all those who possess a blue topcoat to look it over carefully to make sure it is their own. The missing coat bears the label, Rogers Peet — Scotch Mist and is a size 34. A pair of gray suede gloves was left in the coat pockets.

If this description matches the coat in your wardrobe please contact the synagogue office as soon as possible. No arrests will be made.

The Men's Club will inaugurate its activity year with an Open Supper Meeting at which Rabbi Joseph H. Lookstein will be its guest speaker. This supper meeting will take place on Tuesday evening, October 16th, and is scheduled to begin at 7:30 o'clock in the Social Hall. The Rabbi has opened our supper meetings in his own inimitable way for many years now, and we can assure our members of a most engrossing talk.

At 6:30 o'clock a cocktail hour will be held in the auditorium and will provide an opportunity for our members to get together and recount the personal events that have taken place during the summer. A tasty meal will be served to complete the evening's program, and we urge all our members to join us at that time.

Notices will shortly be mailed out that will include a Reply Card. It is important that we know how many to prepare for so we request that you return the Reply Card as soon as possible.
