CHANUKAH BEGINS
WEDNESDAY NIGHT NOV. 30

Chanukah commemorates one of the major turning points in Jewish history. In the year 168 B.C.E., the Syrian Emperor Antiochus Epiphanus launched a campaign of religious persecution against the Jews. His soldiers desecrated the Holy Temple in Jerusalem. For three years Judah the Maccabee led a valiant army of loyal followers against the mighty Syrian legions. After routing the enemy hordes, they rededicated the Holy Temple and reestablished the traditional worship. This consecration was celebrated for eight days. To this day we kindle Chanukah lamps to celebrate not only the events of the hoary past but also as a symbol of the Almighty's mighty deeds throughout the ages.

The first candle is placed at the extreme right of the menorah. Each night following an additional candle is placed to the left of the previous one. However, the order of lighting the candles is from left to right—so that the added candle is kindled first.

The Sages prescribe that the Chanukah lights are to be placed on the left side of the street entrance to one's home—facing the mezuzah on the right door post. (This custom is observed by many in Israel.) In the diaspora the Chanukah lights are placed at the window facing the street. If one's residence is more than thirty feet above street level it is preferable to place the lights near the left side of the entrance within the home, since above thirty feet the objective of Pirsum Haness (publicizing the miracle) is not fulfilled. The preferred placement for the Chanukah candles is between one foot and one meter from the floor.

The Chanukah lights should last a half hour into the evening. On Friday (the candle should be large enough to last over an hour—Sabbath candles are therefore recommended) we light the Chanukah candles before the Sabbath candles; on Saturday night the Chanukah candles are kindled at home after Havdalah is made.

Benedictions Over The Candles:

Baruch atah ado... elokeinu melech ha'olam asher kide'shanu bemitzvosav vetzivanu lehadik neir shel Chanukah.

Baruch atah ado... elokeinu melech ha'olam she'assah niseem la'avoseinu bayameem hahame ba'ze'man ha'zeh.

Blessing recited only at the first kindling:

Baruch atah ado... elokeinu melech ha'olam she'he'che'yanu ve'kee'ye'manu vehi'gee'anu la'ze'man ha'zeh.

EMERITUS ICHTHYOLOGIST HELPED TO DECIDE WHAT'S KOSHER

James W. Atz retired as curator in the Department of Ichthyology in 1981 and is now curator emeritus. Perhaps the most unusual feature of his career to date is his list of kosher and non-kosher fish which appears in the Kashruth, the handbook of Jewish dietary laws. About 125,000 copies have been distributed to interested American Jews.

Kosher fish must possess fins and scales. By strict definition, only those fish with scales that can be scraped from the body without destroying their skin are kosher. However, since the advent of microscopes, scientists have known that it is impossible to remove scales from most fish without damaging their skin, as there is a microscopic layer of epidermis covering their scales.

Dr. Atz cooperated with a rabbinical authority to create a practical interpretation of the ancient law, and to provide a list of those fish which fit that interpretation. Fish, like carp and perch which have cycloid and tenoid scales that can be easily scraped from the skin with a knife, were determined to be kosher. Those, like blowfish and sharks which have ganoid, placoid and modified scales, were not considered kosher because the skin must be ripped to remove the scales.

Dr. Atz feels that his contribution to the Kashruth is a "fine example of the kind of service that the Museum can perform for the community at large." He will continue to come to the Museum two days a week for at least another year or two to complete research projects and to answer questions about what's kosher.
